Laterals

Laterals are required to bring the fiber from the mainline trench to your property. Where we can, we will share laterals between properties.

You will see laterals in two states, temporary and complete. We need time to perform tasks like fiber testing which is why we use a temporary fix before final restoration.

Final restoration is performed once we have the network complete. Below shows what the temporary and final work will look like.

Chambers

Chambers house important equipment required for deployment of the network.
You will see the area around the Chambers in two states, temporary and complete. We need time to test equipment in the chamber and therefore need to use a temporary fix before final restoration.

Final restoration is performed once we have the network complete. Below shows what the temporary and final work will look like.
